Comments:

The week started off well with all Burdekin mills performing consistently.

Rain commencing on Monday night and persisting through Tuesday brought harvesting to a halt and, as a result, all factories were shut down by Tuesday night. Rainfall totals of 15-25mm were reported.

Production resumed at Invicta and Inkerman mills on Friday with Pioneer restarting on Saturday evening and Kalamia on Sunday.

Throughput for the week was just over 172,000 tonnes, which is below budget. Season to date, we are just behind budget but should make this up with a good run this week.

CCS increased this week and is now just slightly above budget.

Motorists are reminded that locomotives continue to operate on the tramline even when the factories are shut down.
